Horizontal Texting

Have you ever texted someone holding your iPhone horizontally? This changes the keyboard to be wide (which is easier to type on) and also introduces a new key on the lower right. This is the script key. This key allows you to use script hand writing instead of using the letters. You use your finger to write. This is also an easy way to sign a signature. When in the script mode, the iPhone also gives you shortcut suggestions that you may want to use on the bottom.
